SENATE.—The Senate adopted a joint resolu-on, by a vote of 32 to 12, providing that when e House adjourned on Wednesday, it be to a 4th of January. Mr. Wilson introduced a bill granting a idion acres of land for the benefit of public hook in the District of Columbia. lay down a rule by which the Senator should be read out of the party.

Mr. D. wished to know if the administration lay down a rule by which the Senator should be read out of the party.

Mr. D. wished to know if the administration did not regard as wanting in party feeling those who rejected the Lecompton movement?

Mr. B. replied that he could not go any further into the subject. He had already endeavoired to express his views with all the clearness of which he was capable. If the Senator thought proper to assume that this was a proper measure, and that he (Douglas) was out of the party, because he differed with the administration, that is his (Douglas') own business. He (Bigler) had laid down no such rule.

Mr. D. replied that the Senator from Pennsylvania informed the Senate that he had other sources of information in regard to the party measure. He believed that the charges that he (Douglas) was going over to the Black Republicans were made by men hostile to him, and actually hostile to the administration.

There were persons who desired to get him into a false position for ulterior purposes. He did not mean that men whose claims to the confidence of the Democratic party were not superior to hir own should read him out of the party. The report was being circulated every where that the President is prepared to put the knife to the throat of every man who dares to differ from the administration and think for himself on this question. He believed those who circulated such reports were enemies to the president. He wished to give his friends an opportunity to dary the charge.

Mr. Bigler. Who makes the charge?

Mr. Douglas. The newspapers of the country are full of it. The Senator resemed to make his argument as if he were outside of a healthy Democratic organization. I do not recognize the right of that Senator or anybody on earth to expel me.

Mr. Bigler. In no shape or form have I been Mr. Bigler. In no shape or form have I been Mr. Bigler. In no shape or form have I been Mr. Bigler. Did he mean the Cabinet did not agree with the Presid He (Mr. Bigler) understood differently.

Democrane organization. I do not recognize the right of that Senator or anybody on earth to expel me.

Mr. Bigler. In no shape or form have I been laboring to put the Senator out of the party. It is true; I did show in the question of shavery that the Senator did not always hold the same position, but I did not say that any man who differed from the Administration on the subject was no Demograf.

Mr. Douglas. I stated that when I changed my opinion I changed it in correspondence with that of the President in both cases. If that would lead me out of the party it would lead me into very good company. If the President and the Democratic party stick to this platform we can move along harmoniously; but I shall at all events maintain my position, and shall take all proper occasions to vit.dicate the great principle with which my public life is identified. I hepe, in the discussion of this question, Senators will let me alone in regard to my consistency, and as for my prospects, lot time determine.

Mr. Stuart obtained the floor and the further consideration of the subject was postponed.

The Senate passed the House resolutions to pay the arrearages of the manhem at the commencement, instead of at the end of the session, and $250 per month cach during the session.

Mr. Douglas pro-uned, then, if ever one of the gentlemen around him were at liberty thus to differ from the President on the bankrupt law, Pacific Railroad, tariff on the bankrupt law, Pacific Railroad, tarifi and other measures, was not he to be permitted to judge for himself on the subject of the Lecompton movement? He did not understand the extraordinary desire to strike a blow which would either cripple him or drive him out of the party, or make the country believe he had left the party, Would the Senator from Pennsylvania endorse every recommendation in the President's Message, and say he is prepared to carry it out.

A Man Murstered.

ROCHESTER, Dec. 21.—Our city was yesterday thrown into a state of great excitement by the discovery of the mangled murdered body of Charles W. Little, lawyer in this city, in Genessee river, a few rods below the falls.

From the pools of blood and other evidence of a struggle, the murderers were easily traced from the place of the fatal contest to the rivor, where they attempted lo conceal the evidence of their crime by sinking the body of their victim. The water being shallow, the body did not float away from the shore, and was found at seven o'clock yesterday morning.

The body was immediately taken to the police office and arrest made of his wife, her brother, and several other of his relatives.

From the evidence, if appears that Little and his wife did not live haspily together, and that a separation took place about a year ago, but for the past month or two they had lived together again. On the ground was discovered blood, and other evidences of a conflict were found. A piece of a victorine, corresponding with one worn by Mrs. Little, was a rosette matching one found in her possession, and a comb, a pair of spectacles said to belong to her brother, Ira Stout, a young man aged about 23 and the arm of a chair, said to have been taken from the office where Little was employed.

Mrs. Little's left wrist and her brother's left arm were found broken, showing that they had been engaged in some extraordinary conarm were found broken, showing that they nad been engaged in some extraordinary condict. The evidence so far seems strongly against the wife of the murdered man and her brother, Ira Stout.

true way of ascertaining whether the Constitution is acceptable or not, is to submit it to the people.

Mr. Bigler explained that he did not say that Mr. Douglas maintained the ground, that an enabling act was necessary in all cases, but that he had taken the ground, that it was neccosary in the case of Kansas. The Senator has disposed of his own argument by saying that it was not always consistent, and that a wise man will always change his views whenever he thinks himself wrong.

Mr. Douglas wanted to know by what anthority Mr. Bigler said the Lecompton movement was an Administration measure. The Message does not say so. Had he any higher suthority than that?

Mr. Bigler replied that he had made the deduction from the Message, and from what he knew in addition. He did not assert in terms it was an administration measure, but said the administration hed the havement legal so far as it had progressed. How could the President make a recommendation prior to the result of the vote, which he says in his Message he is

The revolution in Campeachy had been suppressed, the Island of Carren having been submitted to the government. The report of the bombardment and capture of Sisalis is faise. maiting for.

Mr. Douglas replied that he should like to know what other sources of information Mr. Buchanau had, as that Senator had that much

It must be an enigma to many why southers oliticians, both in and out of Congress, at ly peralat in opposing the subn eas will, in any event, he a free State, most they can only prolong the contest for a brief period, and that even if they succeed forcing her into the Union under the Lecomp Constitution, the people, by their right of colution, will repudiate that swindle, and male it under foot. All this southern pol ans understand perfectly. But the expli tion of their apparently perverse conduct is easily given. We noticed that some Federal office holders were selected with a severe attack of absence; unavoidably detained by a violent determination not to come. During the absence of the Committee on Resolutions, Dr. Brainard proceeded to address the meeting. The Dr. really tried hard to make at least the skeleton of a speach, and merits the credit that an homest perseverance under difficulties always receives. That he did not succeed in rendering himself very intelligible, was undoubtedly not owing to any desire upon his part to conceal his real sentiments. It was soon evident, however, that the to any desire upon mis part to concean mis real self-timents. It was soon evident, however, that the wound in the Democratic body-politic was "past all surgery;" and some of the rude Democracy mani-fested discourteous symptoms, exclaiming with Macbeth, "throw physic to the dogs." The Dr. was interrupted during his remarks by the entrance of Corporal Brizer's grand terchlight procession consisting of two small boys with torches, and four consisting of two small boys with torcles, and composure, the was listened to with composure, and his close greeted with grateful applicate. I forbear commenting on the Dr.'s position in the important case of Douglas vs. Buchanan, as I am not aware that he assumed any. As soon as the great medicine man had resumed in the committee that the committee man had resumed to the committee that the his seat, the committee previously appointed re-ported on resolutions. Then commenced an edify-ing struggle between those modest orators, Messralev. Merrick, et ale, to see who should have th grace to be prevailed upon to next address the meeting. Mr. Merrick, with characteristic generos-ity, was the first to yield to the pressure of his own issire to hear himself speak. Mr. Merrick spoke. have heard such speeches before, and had hoped never to hear one again. He reminded me of Molere's advocate, whose discourse, no matter upor that subject, was the Universe, and whose lates ate was always the Deluge. It was that venerated ration, "Long may she Wave!" originally intended by the fourth of July, but which has done such comany service upon manmerable patriotic occa-ons, recited, however, in a manner that was cred-table to Mr. M.'s memory. It was a sort of "Thir recollection of having heard something of this kind once or twice before; but whether in a village lyceum or at a July celebration in the rural districts, I do not now recollect.

During the last five minutes of Mr. Merrick's speech he alluded to the subject upon which he was called to speak. He agreed with Mr. Bouglas, and likewise agreed with Mr. Buchanan; a facility of opinion which he explained by stating that these two distinguished gentlemen themselves agreed. Mr. Speed here requested him to state the precise difference existing between the President and Sepdifference existing between the President and Sep-tor upon Kansas affairs. Lamar is the intimate crony of Soule, T. J. He goes to Central America with one absorbing idea—to help Walker by every means in his power. If that adventurer has but a show of success, Lamar will recognize him as President of Nicaragus forthwith. If he is defeated and in peril, Lamar will save his neck if possible. He will be worth to the fill-buster cause a battery of General Scott's best artillery and a regiment of his cavalry.

Division of Texas-A New State.

Prom the New Orleans Frayune.]

The subdivision of Texas into two or more States is revived in the public journais of that State. No State in the Union has increased in population and wealth during the last few years more than Texas. Her estimated population at this time amounts to more than half a million, and when the next census is taken it will be found sufficient to entitle the State to six of seven representatives in Congress.

Several reasons are given for a division. The great size of the State; the great dissimilarity of its parts, and the difficulty of constant communication between all parts and one centre of Government, are among the chief of them. The general political reason is the importance of increasing the strength of the South in the United States Senate, by the addition of more. Senators, to check the increasing predominance of the non-shaveholding States, from the growth of Freewoil States in the Northwest.

The subdivision of Texas into not more than four States is provided for by the articles of annexation.

One of the principal objections is that per-four States is provided for by the articles of annexation.

One of the principal objections is that, perhaps, one of the new States may be a Free State, by reason of the predominance in one portion of the State of settlers from Europe, who do not employ stave labor. That danger is overrated. It is proposed to avoid all apprehension or that subject by making a new State out of the First Congressional District as now constituted, which will be sure to adopt a slave constitution, and in the remainder of the State—the original Texas—the preponderance is clear, and the con-Texas—the preponderance is clear, and the constitutional provisions sufficiently decided.

THE NEW YORK CHNTRAL RATIROAD,-The Albany Stateman, speaking of the manager of this Company, says:

"When the last dividend was about to be declared, the Treasurer reported that he had a sufficient amount to his credit to cover the entire payment of that dividend. And yet the President of the Board and Mr. Pruyn, one of the Directors, immediately the dividend was decladed upon, had to negotiate a loan of $250,000 to meet it. This we believe is not generally known to stockholders, and we shold that, as the parties in interest, they should not be misled by the Treasurer's incorrect statement. "Again, the stockholders are under the impression that a general rule governs the deposit of the company's money with the banks; but, last mouth, a deposit of $250,000 was made with the Albany directors of the Central Road are largely interested, and instead of finding $1,500 to $2,000, the earned interest on the deposit, to the credit of the company, a charge of some $1,300 is discovered to have been made by the bank for disbursing the moneys of the company. This fact, we hold, should be made known to the stockholders; but it appears nowhere in the report.

Now does the yet more important fact appear where in the report.

Nor does the yet more important fact appear in the document before vs. that some $110,000 was deposited in the Oliver Lee Bank, of Buffale, in which the President of the Board owned $55,000 stock at the time of its failure. Cerminity, this should be made known to those to whom the lost money belongs.

sainly, this should be made known to those to whom the lost money belongs. It would also be well did the annual report set forth the proceedings before the board of directors. The stockholders would then have an opportunity of seeing how marrowly they escaped loaning $50,000 to the eleven miles of Quincy and Palmyra road, at Southern Michigan, and other matters of equal delicacy and interest. These things, we repeat, the stockholders have a right to know; and since it is impossible to obtain such information as they impossible to obtain such information as they are entitled to from the board, we will endeav-or, as public journalists, to supply their natural

THE SECOND SANFORD HALL CASE.—The case of Arme B. Smith against Gen. Macdonald keeper of the Sanford Hall Lanatic Asylum a confined, was brought up a few days ago in New York. Miss Smith was present, and expressed to the Judge a desire to leave the institution and return to her parents. After some informal conversation, it was agreed to conse to this, and an order was entered accordingly rdering her discharge, without passing upo he question of her alleged insanity.

A young man of Keolnik, lows, recent y married a young, pretty and modest woman with whom he lived in much happiness till on day, opening a letter addressed to his wife, he discovered that she had another husband in Ohio. Rushing home to his pretty wife, th raged husband showed her the letter and that she had nothing to say only that she had third lord residing in Pennsylvania. The m has seed for a divorce.

.... A woman named Jane Lawson esceped from the Lunatic Asylum at Jacksonville, on Wednesday morning of hast week, and though a search was immediately instituted, no trace could be found of her whereabouts. Subsequently she was found dead near Diamond Grove, her clothing nearly burned of, and her body dreadfully charred. A fire had been left burning near where she was found, by somewood choppers, and it is supposed that, on going to it in the night, to keep warm, het clothes accidentally took fire, and assistance being out of the question, she was burned to death.

The Ryen.—The river is now in sulendid out of the question, she was burned to death.

The River.—The river is now in spiendial boating order, and quite a brisk business seems to be doing by the steamers. A large amount of produce is being sent forward from this and points shove and below, though the prices at St. Louis hardly justify shipment. Boats are now crossing the Lower Rapids. If the river continues agen a few weeks longer, it will not only enable shippers to get off a large amount of produce, but also permit merchants to supply the grocery market, which has been rather bare for some weeks past.—Quincy Whip, Decessber 15.

...Mr. Heman Baldwin, the LaSalle banker, who suspended so me weeks since, appears to be in great trouble, notwithstanding the active sympathy manifested by his neighbors. One of his victimized depositors went to his house the other day and demanded his deposits, backing the demand with a revolver. Mr. B. forked over. Mr. Baldwin's last exhibit made by a committee appointed for that purpose, has a decidedly squally look. He shows a surplus of about $9,000, mostly in cool lands at high prices.

... Moody T. Carter, condemned to death for the murder of James Gibson, was executed at Chester on Friday week. The Standard says there was an unusually large crowd gathered to witness the scene, and that even "a few of the fair sex" suffered their cariosity to overrule the dictates of propriety. The prisoner manifested great composure, and declared he had obtained Divine pardon for his oftence. He stated that liquor was the cause of his evil late. We are informed that W. Gayle, Esq., Keithsburg, has just returned from St. Louis with an arrangement for some thirty or forty thousand dollars which is to go into immediate circulation. Mesers. Bell & Thompson, New Boston, have made arrangements to buy grain and pork for eash, and Mr. C. J. Sellon is now at the east making arrangements for funds to be expended for grain here.

We think, therefore, when all these arrange-ments become active, we shall be in better financial condition.—Aledo Record.

The President takes a different view of the subject in his Message, and from the events occurring in Kansas, as well as here, it is evident the question is passing from theories into practice, and that, as Governor of Kansas, I should be compelled to carry out new instructions differing on a vital question from those received at the date of my appointment. Such instructions I could not execute consistently with my views of the Federal Constitution and of the Kansas and Nebraska bill, or with my pledges to the people of Kansas. Under these circumstances no alternative is left but to resign the office of Governor of the Territory of Kansas. TILL OFFER THEM UNTIL THE 18T OF JANUARY Territory of Kansas. I have been most reluc-tantly forced to this conclusion, after anxious and careful consideration of my duty to my country, to the people of Kansas, to the Presi-dent of the United States, and to myself. The grounds assumed by the President in his late message to Congress, and in recent instruc-tions in connection with the events now trans-piring here and in Kansas, admonish me that, as Governor of that Territory, it will no lon-ger be in my power to preserve the peace or promote the public welfare. ing the Winter, we will sell at Without Regard to Cost. I have heretoired discussed the subject mainly on the question that Conventions are not sovereign, and cannot rightfully make a State Constitution without its submission to a vote of the people for ratification or election. THE PRESIDENT'S CALL AND WALKER'S CONDITIONS EXPORE ACCEPTING IT.

At the carnest solicitations of the President, after repeated refusals, the last being in writing. I finally accepted this office, upon his letter showing the dangers and difficulties of the Kaneas question, and the necessity of my undertaking the task of adjustment. Under these circumstances, notwithstanding the great sacrifices to me, personal, political and pecuniary. I felt that I could no more refuse such a call from my country, through her Chief Magistrate, than a soldier in brittle who is ordered to the command of a fortiorn hope.

I accepted, however, on the express condition that I should advocate the submission of the Constitution to a vote of the people for ratification or rejection. These views were clearly understood by the President and all his cabinet. They were distinctly set forth in my letter on my acceptance of this office, of the 20th of March last, and reiterated in my inaugural address of the 27th of May last, as follows:

"Indeed, I cannot doubt that the Convention, af-Valencias and Poplins THE PRESIDENT'S CALL AND WALKER'S CONDITION In Oak, Black Walnut and Mahogany and cannot rightfully make a State Constitution without its submission to a vote of the people for ratification or election.

VIAL DEFECTS IN THE LECONPTON CONVENTION.

Yet surely even those who differ with me on this point must concede, especially under the Kassus-Nebraska bill, it is only such Conventionscan be called sovereign as have been truly elected by the people, and represent their will.

On reference, however, to my address of Sept.
16 last, on the day of the qualification ques tion, a copy of which was immediately transmitted to you for the information of the President and Cabinet, it is evident that the Lecompton Convention was not such a body. That Convention had vital, not technical, defects in the very substance of its organization mider
the Territorial law, which could only be cured, in my judgment, as set forth in my inaugural and other addresses, by submission of the Consitution for the ratification of the people. On reference to the Territorial law under which the Convention was assembled, thirty-four regularly organized counties were named as election districts for delegates to the Convention.
In each and all these counties it was required by law that a census be taken and the voters WORSTED AND DUCAL PLAIDS, SIDEBOARDS, EXTENSION TABLES, OLARK & Platt,

My instructions from the President, WOOLEN GOODS. J. E. & H. N. PARSONS, delegates to the Convention should be appor-tioned accordingly. In nineteen of these coun-ties there was no census, and therefore there could be no such appointment there of dele-gates upon such census. This result was superinduced by the fact that the Territorial Legislature appointed all the Sheriffs and Probate Judges in all these counties, to whom was assigned the duty by law of making this census and registry. These officers were political partizans, dissenting from the views and opinions of the people of these counties, as was proved by the election of October last. These officers, from want of funds, as they alleged, neglected or refused to take any census or make any registry in these counties, and, therefore, they were entirely disfranchised, and could not, and did not, give a single vote at the election for delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

In that inaugural I proceed further to say, the people "may by a subsequent vote deteat the ratification of the Constitution." I designate this "a great Constitution." I designate this "a great Constitution is the servant and sot the master of the people." In my official dispatch to you of the 2d June last, a copy of that inaugural address was transmitted to you for the further information of the President and his Cabinet. No exception was ever taken to any portion of that address. On the contrary, it was distinctly admitted by the President in his message, with commendable frankness, that my instructions in favor of a submission of the Constitution to a vote of the people, were "general and unqualified." By that inaugural and a subsequent address, I was pledged to the people of Kansas to oppose, by all lawful means, the adoption of any Constitution which was not fairly and fully submitted to their vote for ratification or rejection.

These pledges I cannot recall or violate without personal dishoner and the abandonment of fusions and principles, and therefore it is impossible for me to support what is called the Locompton Constitution, because it is not submitted to a vote of the people for ratification or rejection. I have ever uniformly maintained the principle that sovereignty is vested ax. D'WOLF & MACLAY
